

Controversial waters

A 1975 treaty set the center of the Shatt al-Arab channel as a southern border between Iran and Iraq. Saddam Hussein canceled the treaty five years later, and the new Iraqi government and Iran have not signed a new treaty on their sovereignty over the waterway.

