The following section is based, unless otherwise indicated, on detainee's own account. These statements are included without consideration of veracity, accuracy, or reliability.

a. (S//NF) Prior History: Detainee grew up in Shajoy, where he learned to read and write at the mosque in his village between 1981 and 1983.<sup>1</sup> Detainee's father was the imam at the mosque,<sup>2</sup> and detainee's education earned him the title "Mullah."<sup>3</sup> Detainee worked as a farmer on his father's land and as a tailor while living in Zabul, AF.<sup>4</sup>

b. (S//NF) Recruitment and Travel: In March 1999, detainee traveled to Kabul, AF to meet with Mullah Yunis, the commander of a Taliban security base. Detainee stated if you wanted to join the Taliban, the security base was where you would go.<sup>5</sup> One month later, detainee traveled to Jalalabad, AF, and began working for Governor Malawi Kabir. Detainee worked for Kabir as a guard and performed housework for six to eight months.<sup>6</sup> In December 1999, Kabir ordered detainee to Baghlan, AF, and directed detainee to stay with the local governor, Mullah Abdul Bari.<sup>7</sup> After three months, detainee requested to move to Mazar-e-Sharif, AF, capital of Balkh Province. During the last ten months (through August 2001) at Mazar-e-Sharif, Mullah Muhammad passed the position of Governor to detainee.<sup>9</sup> Detainee's responsibilities included mediating civil disputes and performing some security duties. Detainee stated his duty was to ensure the government operated as usual and to resolve tribal complaints.<sup>10</sup>

c. Detainee relied on the Taliban Foreign Relations Office Director, Quasi Fazl Rabbi, to handle the affairs of local non-governmental organizations (NGOs).<sup>13</sup> After the Taliban front lines fell (November 2001), detainee traveled to Konduz, AF and contacted Arbab Hashim for advice. Arbab Hashim advised the gathered Taliban military leaders to surrender to Northern Alliance forces. Detainee claimed he met Mullah Muhammad Fazl, ISN US9AF-000007DP (AF-007), for the first time during this meeting.<sup>14</sup> Taliban military commanders were informed if they surrendered their weapons to General Dostum, they would be allowed to return home.<sup>15</sup>
